

Activity 1: Definitions of Race

Statement	Agree	Disagree	Unsure
Racial difference is based on skin colour and hair texture.
Race is a biological concept. In other words, your blood and your genes define your race.
There is only one race, the human race.
Race is a social concept. In other words, society and the people who control social institutions define your race.
Your race depends on where you live and where you are born.			